GARDEN COLLECTION 2008

Imagine the difference...

Retreating into the sanctuary of the garden is increasingly becoming the easiest way to escape the hurly burly of everyday life. Our task at Rowlinson Garden Products is simply to make that escape even easier.

A family business, the company has been trading in timber since 1926. With over 80 years of manufacturing knowledge and experience you can be confident that our products are constructed to the highest standard and from the finest materials available. All Rowlinson products are manufactured to standards set out in our Quality Management System, accredited to ISO 9001:2000.

In addition, we have a growing range of metal garden features, designed and built to the same exacting standards as our timber products range.

Customers can benefit from our continually improving 'one-stop-shop' offer in 2008, with our UK and continental manufacturing facilities, backed by our comprehensive UK-based Customer Service and aftercare.

As a company and particularly as a family business, Rowlinson Garden Products takes its social and environmental responsibilities very seriously. We are therefore actively seeking to reduce our carbon footprint, throughout the coming year. In addition, we are Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) accredited, and fully comply with the current regulations on FSC sourcing.

At Rowlinson Garden Products we take immense satisfaction by not only creating great products from natural materials, but doing it in such a way that effectively doesn't cost the earth.

This logo identifies products containing a minimum of 70% wood from well managed forests, independently certified in accordance with the rules of the Forest Stewardship Council A.C.
